DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to the application filed on 10/10/2001.

Claims 1-11 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

3. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Ludascher et al., "Towards self-validating knowledge-based archives", IEEE, 4-2001.

As per claim 1: Ludascher discloses,

"A method of improving data validation, comprising steps of: defining one or more validation criteria (see "XML-based", page 10, left column, see abstract, "model validators"); and encapsulating the defined validation criteria with a data model to which they apply" (see "encapsulated", page 11, right column, last two lines).

As per claim 2: Ludascher discloses, "The method according to claim 1, further comprising the step of using the defined validation criteria to validate a data value for the data model" (see paragraph "Information Hierarchy", page 11).

As per claim 3: Ludascher discloses, "The method according to claim 1, wherein the validation criteria are expressed in a markup language notation" (see entire reference, referring to "XML elements").

As per claim 4: Ludascher discloses, "The method according to claim 3, wherein the markup language notation is XML ("Extensible Markup Language) notation" (see entire reference, referring to "XML elements").

As per claim 5: Ludascher discloses, "The method according to claim 1, wherein the data model and the validation criteria are expressed in a markup language notation" (see entire reference, referring to "XML elements").

As per claim 6: Regarding,

"A system for improving data validation, comprising: means for defining one or more validation criteria; means for encapsulating the defined validation criteria with a data model to which they apply; and means for using the defined validation criteria to validate a data value for the data model": The claim recites the limitation having claimed functionality corresponding to Claim 1. Therefore, Claim 6 is rejected in the same reason as set forth in connecting to the rejection of Claim 1.

As per claim 7: Regarding,

"The system according to claim 6, wherein the data model and the validation criteria are expressed in a markup language notation": The claim recites the limitation having claimed functionality corresponding to Claim 5. Therefore, Claim 7 is rejected in the same reason as set forth in connecting to the rejection of Claim 5.

As per claim 8: Regarding,

"The system according to claim 7, wherein the markup language notation is XML ("Extensible Markup Language) notation": The claim recites the limitation having claimed functionality corresponding to Claim 4. Therefore, Claim 8 is rejected in the same reason as set forth in connecting to the rejection of Claim 4.

As per claim 9: Regarding,

"A computer program product for improving data validation, the computer program product embodied on one or more computer-readable media and comprising: computer-readable program code means for defining one or more validation criteria; computer-readable program code means for encapsulating the defined validation criteria with a data model to which they apply; and computer-readable program code means for using the defined validation criteria to validate a data value for the data model": The claim recites the limitation having claimed functionality corresponding to Claim 1. Therefore, Claim 9 is rejected in the same reason as set forth in connecting to the rejection of Claim 1.

As per claim 10: Regarding,

"The computer program product according to claim 9, wherein the data model and the validation criteria are expressed in a markup language notation": The claim recites the limitation having claimed functionality corresponding to Claim 3. Therefore, Claim 10 is rejected in the same reason as set forth in connecting to the rejection of Claim 3.

As per claim 11: Regarding,

"The computer program product according to claim 10, wherein the markup language notation is XML ("Extensible Markup Language") notation": The claim recites the limitation having claimed functionality corresponding to Claim 4. Therefore, Claim 11 is rejected in the same reason as set forth in connecting to the rejection of Claim 4.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Reid et al., "Implementing Fudgets with Standard Widget Sets", CiteSeer 1998, discloses a system of validating from Haskell.
